FORTIFIED is seeking Architectural Designers with 1-4 years of professional experience. This is a full-time or part-time, in-person position with a competitive salary commensurate with a candidate's experience and qualifications.

Architectural designers work with project managers and the firm principal to develop projects from concept to realization, generating design studies and production documents, and the representation of projects for presentation. Staff engage the entire range of the office's creative workflow through sketching, design, digital modeling, rendering, drafting, BIM, and construction administration.

The ideal candidate is one with strong design skills and aesthetic sensibilities, values, and an intellectual point of view that are complementary to the practice. The position offers many opportunities to contribute meaningfully to the work of the office and for professional advancement.
